

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An osteotome including a head portion is provided. The head portion includes a first substantially planar surface and a second substantially planar surface extending obtusely from the first substantially planar surface. The osteotome further 5 includes a bone cutter extending from the first substantially planar surface, and an elongated portion extending from the head portion. The first substantially planar surface and the second substantially planar surface face away from the elongated portion.

10

15